CITY COUNCIL.

Pursuant to call of the Mayor, the City Council convened in special session on Saturday evening, July 2nd, 1881, Mayor Little presiding:

The Mayor stated that his object in calling a special meeting of the Council this evening was in view of the facts that the Council, at its last session, adopted a resolution which provides for the formal opening to the public of Liberty Park on July 4th; and a programme of exercises had been arranged for the occasion. To-day, having learned the sad intelligence of the attempted assassination of the President of the United States, and of his expected death at any time in consequence, the Mayor asked, under the circumstances, what action, if any, the Council wished to take in the premises.

The chairman of the committee on enrollment reported that the resolution entitled "A Resolution in Relation to Liberty Park," had been regularly enrolled, signed by the Mayor, filed in the office of the city recorder, and was ready for publication.

After full consideration a preamble and resolution was introduced repealing that portion of the resolution passed at the previous session which provides that Liberty Park be formally opened to the public July 4th, 1881, which was adopted, and will be found elsewhere in our columns.

The special session then adjourned sine die.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when SCOVILLE'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has proven itself the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing Scrofula, Syphilitic Disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, all Nervous Disorders and Debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that flesh is heir to. A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health renewer, for it acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA cures pain in Man and Beast. For use externally and internally.

CELEBRATION ABANDONED.

The Celebration at Liberty Park Will Not Take Place.

No Procession and No Celebration Exercises at the Institute.

A Day for Rejoicing Changed to a Day of Mourning.

The utmost excitement prevailed in this city during the whole of Saturday. Before business hours had commenced, word was received here that President Garfield had been shot at in the B. & O. depot in Washington. The news, while disbelieved for the moment, created the utmost excitement, and when, in a few moments, it was confirmed by early extras and the further report came that the President was dead, the news spread like wildfire, and people gathered in knots everywhere and talked of nothing but the calamity. The extras which were out in a brief time, were greedily seized and the contents eagerly devoured. In a short time the report of the death was contradicted, and it then being wired that the wounds were not likely to prove mortal, a feeling of relief and thankfulness was everywhere manifested. All day long the bulletin boards were crowded, and each new dispatch read and the information communicated from one to another.

When it was ascertained definitely that the President was shot, and that his wounds were of a serious character, the general committee on the celebration at Liberty Park was hastily called together, and after a brief explanation, it was decided, in view of the great calamity that had befallen the country—which still might prove more terrible—that the celebration at Liberty Park, for which such extensive preparations had been made, should be abandoned. The following was then issued as an extra:

At a special meeting of members of the general committee for the celebration of Independence Day called after the reception of the sad news of the wounding of General Garfield, President of the United States, it was decided that, in view of the peril in which the life of the nation's chief executive is placed by the act of an assassin, the proposed celebration of Independence Day by the citizens of Salt Lake City, at Liberty Park, be abandoned, and that public notice to this effect be given to citizens and committees engaged in making preparations for the celebration of the day and for the proposed amusements and general rejoicings arranged for the occasion.

On behalf of the general committee, GEORGE Q. CANNON, Chairman.

President John Taylor, who was present at the meeting, arose and made a few remarks on the subject, which we give in another column. At the direction of President Taylor the following was wired all over Utah Territory:

To the Presidents of Stakes: The lamentable news having reached this city this morning, that an attempt has been made upon the life of President Garfield by an assassin, and that he is now lying dangerously wounded; excreting as we do the horrible crime of assassination, we suggest to the Latter-day Saints that out of respect to the nation's chief magistrate, and in accordance with our heartfelt sympathy in his behalf, all preparations by them for celebrating the national birthday, July 4th, throughout the Territory of Utah, be suspended and the demonstrations usually had on that day be dispensed with.

JOHN TAYLOR, GEORGE Q. CANNON, JOSEPH F. SMITH, First Presidency.

The general committee, having decided to abandon the celebration adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock last night. At that hour the committee met, and reports of expenses were called for. It may as well be stated here that as soon as the celebration had been abandoned, all work at the park was stopped. The general committee decided last night that all bills of expenses be sent in before next Wednesday evening, when another meeting will be held.

The leading spirits in the citizens celebration were at a loss for some time as to what they should do. After talking about for a time, it was finally decided that their general committee should meet at 3 o'clock, and a line of action be determined upon. Quite a number, giving it as their opinion that the wounds of the President would not prove fatal, were in favor of going on with the celebration; and said that the narrow escape of Gen. Garfield would be an occasion for the expression of joy, and that the celebration, on this very ground, should be made the grandest ever yet given. However, when the meeting was held at 3 p.m., the news of the President's condition being most unfavorable, the committee followed the plan adopted by the Liberty Park committee in the morning, and abandoned the celebration. They did decide, however, that the troops and others who desired, should assemble in front of the Continental Hotel on Monday morning, whence all should march to the Institute, at which place appropriate addresses are to be made. The procession, the exercises, and other features of a celebration have all been abandoned.

As soon as the information was received that the wounds were likely to be serious, the Theatre was ordered closed both for the afternoon and evening. It has also been closed for Monday and Tuesday nights.

PERSONAL.

Studebaker, president of the South Bend and Southern Railroad, as well as president of the mammoth manufactory of South Bend, Ind., arrived in the city yesterday, after an extended western trip of three months. Mr. Studebaker not having been in Salt Lake city for several years, notes with pleasure the great progress and thriftiness in all branches of trade here, and predicts a bright future for the city in the mountains. A proof of the confidence of his remarks is amply set forth in the fact of their large investments in their central branch house here, and its large and handsome stock. Mr. Studebaker will remain in the city several days, the guest of Mr. J. B. Glass, resident manager of the Studebaker business in this territory.

The Big Boot.

One of the oldest landmarks on Main Street is the sign of the Big Boot, which was owned years ago and adorned the front of a store near where it is at present. Mr. W. K. Sloan, fourteen years ago, owned it; W. H. Rowe, Esq., took possession some time after, and it has finally passed into the hands of Mr. James Payne. The sign of the Big Boot has always adorned a first class boot and shoe store, and since it has come into the possession of Mr. Payne, the store which the old sign adorns, has kept pace with the growing times and continues to be first-class. No person in his line has a better custom than has the proprietor of the Big Boot store, and no person could work harder to merit that custom. Not only does he keep on hand a very large stock of the finest kinds of imported goods, but he has a valuable supply of boots and shoes made by himself in his own shops. His custom work has earned him a reputation second to none, and Mr. Payne says he means to maintain the reputation it has taken him so long to secure. Within the past two weeks he has received over $4,000 worth of ladies and Misses shoes, and other fine goods, which are now opened out, and which he invites the public to call and examine, at the sign of the Big Boot, 140 Main Street.

Celebration.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 2, '81.
Editors Herald:

It appears that, owing to the melancholy affair at Washington, the celebration at Liberty Park on Monday will be abandoned. This is proper enough, considering the circumstances. But as considerable material has been bought and prepared by the various committees for decoration, would it not be well to preserve the same and use it for a celebration on the 24th? Not on the 24th actually, as that comes on Sunday. But Monday being not the most convenient day of the week for a holiday, how would it be to keep Tuesday the 26th, and have a celebration at the Park on that day, at which time the Park might be formally opened also? Thereby much material might be utilized for a purpose similar to that for which it has been obtained and prepared.
